The Silver King Dead.

John W. McKay, the multi-millionaire, known as the Silver King, died in London, this week. He was believed to be worth near $200,000,000, but it is said by the confidential Secretary that McKay himself could not tell within $20,000,000, how much he really was worth.

Country Convention.

The Fulton County Dem. Appellate convention met at the Court House, Saturday last, Mr. Henry Rensley chairman, and Mr. Jas. Roney, Secy. A resolution authorizing the chairman to appoint 7 delegates and that they be instructed to vote for Robbins, carried without any opposition. The supporters of Judge White in the convention were respectable in numbers and otherwise, but they did not place Judge White in nomination or otherwise oppose instructions for Robbins, presumably because they saw that the Robbins men were in the majority. The attendance was large.

THE COMING

Maneuvers of Army and Navy.

The Secretary of War has authorized a great mimic battle, somewhere on the Atlantic coast, in September, in which a large part of the U. S. Army and Navy, will be engaged. So many war vessels and so many regiments will be designated to defend certain parts of the coast, and equal or larger land and naval forces will act as an invading force. The respective commanding officers will be expected to plan the battle or battles and to execute the plan both for defense and attack precisely as if enemies, except nothing but blank cartridges, will be used. Another interesting feature will be that the great metropolitan newspapers will have representatives on hand, at their own expense, using their own boats, to report the battles, with every officer pledged to give them no information of any plan before it happens. The newspapers are to work it out for themselves.

OUR LEVEE WORK

To Commence About Sept. 1st.

ABOUT THAT $200,000 APPROPRIATION. Hon. Rice A. Pierce tells us that it is an absolute and unassailable fact, one that can be literally substantiated from the government records, that the $200,000 for the Lake county levee is a portion of the budget, constituting the rivers and harbors bill. Mr. Pierce states that in the river and harbors bill no specific work or appropriation is made or named, that is to say no specific sum is set aside for a specific work, but an estimate or aggregate is made, and the aggregate placed under care of the River Commission for dispersal. Mr. Pierce says that the $200,000 for the Lake county levee forms its quota of the regular budget and every dollar of that sum will be spent on the work. As a matter of fact $20,000 has already been set aside by the Commission to the end that work on the Lake county levee may immediately begin. — Troy Banner.

Congressman Pierce has certainly worked faithfully for this appropriation, and his efforts have been crowned with measurable success. But it seems that a great many do not understand the attitude of the River Commission toward levee building or the attitude of the Government toward our particular levee District. The Courier, in common with the general public has understood that Congress appropriated $200,000 toward the construction of our levee, and that this sum was available at an early date. This is a mistake, for Congress did not act specifically in the matter; and the River Commission has made no promise at all, only recommended that the levee be built by allotments from future appropriations in such installments as the Commission, from time to time, judges to be expedient and necessary. This policy prevails not only as to our levee but all other levee districts. This $200,000 idea originated from the report of Capt. Winslow, the engineer, in charge, in which he estimated the cost of our levee to be $400,000 and recommended that the U. S. Government provide half that sum. This report was approved, but no specific sum named or any specific time in which it is to be made.

It is estimated that the cost of completing the levee system of the entire Miss. Valley will be about $20,000,000, whereas Congress is appropriating an average of only $1,000,000 a year for such purposes. Under this view of facts it will take, perhaps, 20 years to complete the levee system. The Courier is of the opinion that the Congress ought to appropriate the $20,000,000 at once, but it does not, for under the scale of present and past appropriations the Government can do scarcely more than add the home people in the building of levees. Hence, the River Commission has adopted the policy of giving assistance to those who help themselves, on the grounds that if the constructions of a levee is not of sufficient importance to the residents to move them to raise money and do some levee work themselves, that it is more to the general good for the Government to spend its money to levee districts where the people will do such building as they can. As an example in Missouri opposite Hickman in 1890 the people did some levee work, and the Government followed it up by two allotments, $20,000 each. By people ceased efforts and this year the River Commission made them no allotment.

In our levee from Hickman to Slough Landing, known as the Redfoot District, Lake County has appropriated $100,000 about $90,000 of which has been expended in building 5 miles to the Ky. State line, leaving 15 miles to be completed. This county has raised about $25,000, which is now not available because of the conditions of the subscriptions. But there are in Tennessee about 150,000 acres of land to be reclaimed by the levee, and less than 25,000 in Kentucky—more mileage in Kentucky but more acreage in Tennessee. All told our local subscriptions only amount to $125,000 whereas the estimated cost of the levee is $400,000. So, therefore, if the River Commission holds us down to half and half we are short in local subscriptions to complete the levee. Indeed, if they expect the Ky. land owners, with one sixth part of land to be reclaimed, to raise as much money as the Tennessee portion of the levee district has, then the task is hopeless. But we apprehend the Commission will not be so unjust in its allotment next year, and if our home people can manage to utilize on subscriptions already made, and materially increase it, to do some levee building ourselves, there are just grounds for assuming that the River Commission will make allotments sufficient to complete the levee in 1903 and 1904.

In taking the authorship of the Monroe doctrine from Monroe and giving it to John Quincy Adams, Prof. Hart, of Harvard, plauded the names of the former President by saying that it was a good letter and no good anyhow which was not much of a compliment to Mr. Adams. But despite the professor's view of the matter the American people are apt to hold to their own opinion as to the authorship and the efficient statesmanship of the doctrine.

EDITOR IN JAIL

The newspapers of North Dakota are considerably worked up over the imprisonment of Editor Farris of the Courtney Gazette for failing to pay a judgment of $870 obtained against him by a preacher of his village. Editor Farris had stated in his paper that Pastor Steele was a lobster. The public generally, accustomed to slang from so many North Dakota editors, did not know what that meant. Anyhow, the jury decided that it was a bad thing, and it found the preacher had been injured $870 worth.

A number of people of an inquiring mind do not understand how Farris can be sent to jail for a word, and they are asking if this is a relic of the old English law which Dickens so ably pictured and ridiculed.

CHOKED

INFANT ALMOST CHOKED TO DEATH BY A LARGE REPTILE.

The child was frightened by the coiled and respondent of the News Democrat are correct in every detail.

John Bishop is a well known farmer, who lives in the Hiser neighborhood. His little daughter, Verbel Bishop, was the central figure in the occurrence.

A few nights ago Mr. Bishop was awakened by a queer, gurgling noise which the child was making in her sleep, as she lay in a crib in the same room. Hurriedly arising, he struck a light and investigated. The father was horrified to find a huge snake coiled tight around the child's body and with its head raised just over the little one's face.

After seeing to the safety of the law, Mr. Bishop made a search for the snake, but in the darkness was unable to find it. Next morning, however, it was discovered coiled up under a pillow of a bed not in use, and was killed after a fight.—Paducah News-Democrat.

The Miners Hope to Raise $250,000 a Week From the Public Contributions, as That Much Will Be Needed.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 21.—The convention of United Mine Workers adjourned after declaring against a general strike, providing for the raising of a fund with which to aid the striking anthracite miners and issuing an appeal to the American people for support.

The convention passed resolutions appealing to district and local unions to donate from the surplus in their treasuries, directing an immediate donation of $50,000 from the national treasury, levying an assessment of 10 per cent. on all members of local unions in districts Nos. 6, 5, 12, 19, 23 and 25, and an assessment of $1 per week on all members of local unions in districts Nos. 2, 5, 11, 15, 16, 20 and 21. An assessment of 25 per cent. is levied on wages, salaries or percentage received from the organization of all national, district and sub-district officers and organizers. Assessments to begin July 16, 1902.

The care of the national organization will be to see that the money of the defense fund with which to carry on the strike. Secretary Wilson, who is the financial head of the union, will be in charge of this work and will have no time in providing to handle the sums. It is believed that all the voluntary contributions from the various districts, sub-districts and organizations will be turned into his hands within the next ten days. These contributions are estimated at about $300,000.

A part of the contribution money has already been turned in. The Ohio union, before leaving, turned over to Secretary Wilson a check for their $10,000. The $50,000 from Illinois was expected to arrive Monday. Indiana and Iowa are expected to make their contributions at once and the other districts will do the same.

A systematic method will be adopted for canvassing for outside subscriptions in the large cities. The miners hope to raise $250,000 a week from the public contributions, as that much will be needed to bring the sum up to $500,000.

In some of the largest cities of the country, such as Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and others, headquarters will be established from which the work will be conducted and the contributions will be appointed to make the canvass.

President Mitchell has made the following estimate of the number of strikers and dependents in each district and weekly revenues to be derived from each district under the decision of the convention.

Cost of maintaining strike: District No. 1, Pennsylvania (anthracite), miners on strike (estimated), 75,000; number of dependents (estimated), 297,000; District No. 7, Pennsylvania (anthracite), miners on strike (estimated), 18,000; number of dependents (estimated), 90,000; District No. 9, Pennsylvania (anthracite), miners on strike (estimated), 32,500; number of dependents (estimated), 252,500; Total strikers in anthracite field (estimated), 150,000. A FIERCE TORNAO.

Eleven Persons Lost Their Lives In Baltimore—Much Damage.

Baltimore, July 21.—A fierce tornado, characterized by a windstorm of extraordinary velocity, thunder, vivid lightning, and heavy rain, suddenly burst upon Baltimore at 1:30 p. m. Sunday, coming from the southwest, with the result that 11 persons lost their lives, hundreds of others were uninjured, trees in the public parks and streets were torn up by the roots, many buildings damaged, and several people injured. The storm exhausted its fury in less than 15 minutes. The damage done in the business part of the city was comparatively slight, being confined to the blowing down of signs and injuries to roofs. It was in the residence portions of the city, along the river front and in the harbor where the wind spent its violence.

Of those who perished nine were drowned in the harbor from open boats, one was killed by a falling tree, and one by a live wire.

Three of the victims were out in a rowing boat on the river with three companions. When the storm broke the boat was capsized, three being drowned and three being rescued by a tugboat. The boy killed by a live wire had, in company with two other boys, gone into a shed for protection when the shed blew down and a live wire fell on one of them, resulting in his death.

The drowning of Mrs. Schuler and her children was the most pathetic incident of the hurricane. Michael Schuler, with his wife and three children, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Joseph Cook, and his wife, had gone out in the harbor for a sail in a 25-foot boat. When the storm came Schuler and Cook took in sails, the boat was blown overboard, the little cabin, and he stood at the tiller to keep the vessel's head toward the wind. A sudden gust of wind blew the boat overboard, and around, knocked Schuler down and pinned him to the deck. Another gust capsized the boat, releasing Schuler, who, with Cooper and his wife, was thrown into the water, leaving Mrs. Schuler and her children pinned in the cabin. Cooper saved himself and his wife by clinging to the mast of the overturned boat, and Schuler saved himself in the same way, after making frantic efforts to get at his imprisoned wife and children. A crew from the schooner Edward H. Hunt rescued Schuler and Cooper and wife and towed the capsized vessel to the wharf, where it was righted, the dead bodies of Mrs. Schuler and her three children were taken from the cabin.

A colored camp meeting was in progress in Paradise grove, near Pottsville, on the Liberty road. The congregation had just been dismissed, when the storm broke. A huge tree fell upon the tent in which the service was being held, and the bodies of worshippers were caught beneath it as it fell. The tree had to be sawed into pieces before the imprisoned men and women could be rescued. One woman, Cornish was crushed to death by the falling tree. The others were not seriously hurt.

A hole several feet in diameter was blown in the wall of St. Mary, Star of the Sea, Catholic church, in South Baltimore. A portion of the stone cornice weighing about 250 lbs. was hurled to the street. Fortunately no one was injured by the falling stone and brick. The damage to the church is estimated at $2,000.

At the foot of Concord street the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation Co.'s warehouse was unroofed, with small damage to the building, but the rain poured in on the valuable cargo stored therein, doing a damage which is estimated from $100,000 to $300,000.

THE IDEAL DAIRY COW.

Charming Word Picture Painted by M. A. Seavill, of Kentucky Kestiment Station.

A cow possessing an attractive head, with eyes wide apart, face covered with fine silky hair, and veins prominent, eyes full and lively, with horns characteristic of the breed, a neat, milky and sinewy, this, free from loose skin underneath, this, at the junction of the head and tapering somewhat to form the shoulders; wedge shaped shoulders, showing no surplus flesh, but wide enough at the chest to show a good heart action; a short, strong, straight back, spine well defined, ribs

AN IDEAL DAIRY COW

(Developing in the Head Quarters) well sprung, the body deep, especially the flank, giving strength to hold a symmetrical udder; broad across the hips, and level from hip to rump, thighs thin and well set to allow of carrying the udder, tall smoothly set on and long, a large, capacious udder, when filled with milk, firmly attached to the body, showing well behind and carried well forward and deep through from side to side, with teats symmetrically placed and wide apart and of good size, the udder smooth throughout, with the appearance that the milk fills every portion of it; milk veins prominent and apparently filled to their capacity; legs short, showing strength, and set well apart; skin soft and elastic, rich in color and covered with soft, close, woolly or silky hair, is a show cow, says the editor of the Kentucky experiment station, and such a cow shows health and strength and dairy capacity, and, withal, is beautiful, and when she walks around without any apparent effort, with head a little up, and notices things without being wild or timid, and with graceful movements, then she becomes attractive and is hard to beat in the show ring.

FOR DAIRY BUILDINGS.

Formula for a Wash That Can Be Applied to Lime Walls and Be Called Water-proof.

In a German periodical appears a formula for a wash which can be applied to lime walls and afterward be made waterproof so as to bear washing. Rosenheck, of Munich, mixes together the powder from three parts siliceous rock (quartz), three parts broken marble and sandstone, also two parts of burned porcelain clay, with two parts freshly slaked lime, still warm. In this way a wash is made which forms a strong, dry, wetted and becomes after a time almost like stone. The four constituents mixed together give the ground color, to which any pigment that can be used with lime is added. It is applied quite thickly to the wall or other surface, and left to dry one day, and the next day is frequently covered with water, which makes it waterproof. This wash can be cleaned with water without losing any of its color; on the contrary, each time it gets harder, so that it can even be brushed, while its porosity makes it look soft. The wash or calcimine can be used for ordinary purposes as well as for the finest painting. A so-called fresco surface can be prepared with it in the dry way. For a useful lime wash for wood and stone, the following is a good preparation: Twenty quarts quicklime are slaked in a suitable vessel with as much hot water as will stand at a level of six inches above the lime. The milk of lime is diluted, and first 15 grains of sulphate of zinc and then seven grains of common salt are added. The latter causes the lime wash to harden without cracking. A beautiful cream color can be imparted to the mass by putting into it a few grains of yellow ochre, or a pearl tint by the addition of some lampblack. A fawn color is produced by two grains of umber and seven grains of lampblack. A sone color can be obtained from 30 grains of umber and seven grains of lampblack. The color is applied, as usual, with a brush.

Cleanliness in the Dairy. Every man, woman and child who has anything to do with the work of butter making, from cream packages, should be clean and neat. Uncleanliness is the rock upon which thousands go down. It is not only the milk, cream, butter, cheese, and other things in a slovenly manner and yet succeed fairly well. This is not true in butter making. Every man, woman, child, package, cloth and worker must be scrupulously free from anything which will impart a taint to the finished product. The hands especially must be clean.

FOREST RESERVATIONS.

Their Establishment by Congress Would Be Advocated by Every Patriotic American.

Ray Stannard Baker, writing in the Century on irrigation, speaks thus of the progress in western settlement in the matter of forest-preservation, and of the need of making more reserves: Another scheme of the westerner for conserving the water-supply has borne rich fruit in the last few years. It is a well-known fact that there is no better conservator of water than a forest with thick under-growing vegetation. The ground is protected, and the vegetation holds back and regulates the water which falls in rain. Nearly all of the high plateaus and mountain ranges of the west, where the rainfall and snowfall are greatest, and where all the great rivers have their sources, are covered more or less densely with vegetation, often with magnificent forests, hundreds, even thousands, of years old. If it were not for these forests, all the water that fell would run swiftly into the valleys, the streams would rise to floods, and in a few days the channels would be dry again. This is actually what happens in many valleys of the west—great torrents for two or three weeks in the year, absolute drought all the remainder of the time. It is, therefore, of vital importance that these forests be preserved. The avestrian, led by wise scientists, has taken up the matter, and by good fortune the government at Washington has been aroused to the necessities of the case, and forest reserves and national parks have been created, which will not only go down to future generations as the most notable places of natural beauty on the continent, but will also protect the life and bring happiness to the valleys below. But the work is yet only half done. More forests must be reserved, and more care be given to protecting them from lawless miners and lumbermen. By the judicious cutting of the older trees and the removal of windfalls and waste, which might give food for fires, they can be made a source of income for a thousand years to come, and that without injuring their usefulness as water-conservers. If private greed is allowed to dictate, these splendid forest areas will be left to the most desolate of deserts, like those of northern Wisconsin, and Michigan—deserts which are far worse than the cactus plains of New Mexico and Arizona.

THE POTATO FIELD.

How to Cut the Tubers for Seed Explained by an Expert New York Grower.

Where late planting is practiced it is usual for potato vines to be killed by the frost in the fall. This usually happens before the tubers have matured. If the foliage is destroyed before it has performed its office, the tubers grow poorly. The best way to avoid this is true whether the vines are destroyed by the bugs, blight or frost. We have received many inquiries recently as to the size of the seed piece which should be planted. We can best answer these questions by some outline drawings showing how we would cut potatoes. In the first place, the potato is cut in two pieces; in the second and third, in three and four, respectively. But cutting potatoes in this way we use about ten bushels of seed per acre. Much of the success of the crop depends on starting right. With a good strong growth at the start the battle is half won. The other half of the battle may be won by proper spraying and tillage, says L. A. Clinton, in Country Gentleman.

Foods That Taint the Milk.

The presence of wild garlic or wild onions in pastures, the use of turnips and other feeds containing oil, must be avoided where cows are giving a large amount of milk. Feeds which have a bad odor, such as silage, must be fed right after milking, and at no other time; otherwise the milk and resulting butter are apt to show the effects. In all cases keep these feeds away from the cows. In the case of silage, taints from silage or other foul feeds are transmitted through the air; consequently if the air is full of silage odor the milk is apt to show it. If, however, feeds of this kind are given directly after milking the product from the cows is not tainted, but distinguished from that produced from other feeds, although condensing factories sometimes condemn milk on this use.—New England Homestead.

The Free Delivery System.

Rural mail delivery has become immensely popular wherever it has been introduced. It is a public service long fought for by merchants and saloon keepers in villages where farmers and postmen have to wait while waiting for the mail. The trade is strong drink has fallen off more than ten per cent since the free delivery system is gradually bringing about temperance reforms in rural communities, besides being a great blessing for the people benefited by its service.—Chicago Daily Sun.

WHAT DEMOCRATS WILL DO.

Matters Which Republicans Are Trying to Cover Up Will Be Thoroughly Aired.

The republicans are in a mess; they are unable to agree among themselves on the most important legislation. The exposure of the looting of the Cuban treasury to aid the sugar trust, the bribing of judges and the cruelties in the Philippines have put them on the defensive. With admirable audacity they attempt to divert public opinion from their own sins of omission and commission by charging the democrats with attacking the army. The president sets the pace by making a stump speech at Arlington, and the great trust-controlled daily newspapers take up the refrain. The little organs edited by the postmasters give tongue in unison.

This effort to put the democrats in the attitude of assailing the army will prove abortive. The common soldier is all right, and most of the officers from Gen. Miles down. They obey orders; that is the duty of the soldier. They will kill all over ten, to kill prisoners, to torture by water cure or other Spanish method.

The democrats do protest and will forever protest against the issuing and carrying out of these orders, a "howling wilderness" of any territory under the American flag. They protest that to "kill all over ten," to kill prisoners, to torture by water cure or other Spanish method is not war; it is vandalism, it is not American; it is barbarism. If not ordered by the highest authority it would never have been perpetrated by American soldiers, except, perhaps, in isolated cases.

The democrats believe in keeping the military authority subordinate to the civil power. No republic can exist that does not do so. The democrats intend to investigate these cruelties when they have the power, and punish the guilty, however high in command. They will investigate the expense accounts, both at home, in the Philippines and in Cuba. The transport service and the purchase of supplies will be investigated. They will find out who received the large sums that have been raised by extreme taxation and if the money was squandered on high living in Cuba and elsewhere. Whom "fixed" to stay out of politics and who aided to stay in. What secret intrigue set free the Hanna pet, Rathbone and Neely? Why Burn Cunniff was ordered by the administration to come to this country to testify, when the request of the democrats for other witnesses was refused? A page might be filled with other details that will be investigated and from the amount of evidence that has been forced to the surface there is a vast amount behind.

To do this the democrats must elect a majority of the next house of representatives and this they will do, if people agree with them that the curtain should be raised and the truth known. No wonder the republicans are on the defensive and are endeavoring to switch the thoughts of the people from their misdoings by claiming that the army is being attacked. They know, however, that it is the republicans who are in the main point and the officers of the army, for their own honor and reputation, and the honor of the United States will welcome the change.

To Down the Trusts. Public sentiment in favor of that simple and effective form of anti-trust legislation which will remove the duties on all articles controlled by the more evil trusts gains strength and volume day by day. There is a feeling that this is the only practical way in which the trusts can be successfully fought. The truth is known that the monopoly trusts could not exist but for the high protective tariff which creates their monopolies. The further the tariff is lowered, the more the trusts are exposed and the more the people pay the gigantic tax imposed by reason of the high tariff, which thus makes plain the manner in which the trusts are to be overcome. The tariff duties on all articles controlled by the monopolistic corporations must be removed.—St. Louis Republic.

Just for a Hint. With a flourish of trumpets it is announced that Representative Littlefield, of Maine, is preparing a bill for the regulation of trusts and combinations in restraint of trade. The republican press takes particular pains to point out that this bill is prepared at the particular request of President Roosevelt, and with amusing exaggeration the bill is said to show it. All this claptrap goes in very nicely with the statement that the president and Attorney General Knox intend to make speeches in favor of restrictive laws. And, meantime, one can only wonder whether there are any people remaining who are deceived with this fake anti-trust aggressiveness, and if there are, how long they will remain so.—Buffalo Enquirer.

DISCORD AMONG REPUBLICANS.

Some Things Which Go to Show That All Is Not Lovely in the Opposition Camp.

The republican brethren and their organs are not mixing well these days as are talking back to each other, telling some plain truths that hitherto it has been difficult to get them to acknowledge. The smaller organs have been making faces at one another for some time, even those edited by the postmasters getting occasionally mixed up in the mess, but their insignificance was such that hardly anyone took any notice of them. But now comes that staunch the Chicago Inter Ocean, and belators Grosvenor, of Ohio, for his speech at the Ohio republican convention, when he said—but what is the use in quoting Grosvenor, he would say anything. But what the Inter Ocean says, however, is of consequence, for after falling foul of Grosvenor for saying "what we will do," it declares that the "we" in this case means David B. Henderson, John Delaney and the deleterious Grosvenor himself, the majority of the house committee on rules, "who constitute the house machine and dictate legislation as long as their fellow members and the people do not revolt against their domination."

But this is only the beginning of the skinning the triumvirate will get at the hands of the Inter Ocean editors, for saying "what we will do," it declares that the "we" in this case means David B. Henderson, John Delaney and the deleterious Grosvenor himself, the majority of the house committee on rules, "who constitute the house machine and dictate legislation as long as their fellow members and the people do not revolt against their domination."

But this is not all the tale of kicking between the brethren, for that independent republican newspaper, the Washington Post, seems to enjoy the telling about it, and comments as follows: "Is not all this cruel, coming from a loyal republican newspaper? Still, it does not satisfy our Chicago contemporaries. Being in a mood for administering family discipline, they are lying in doing that kind of work thoroughly well if it must do it at all. The Inter Ocean comes down from the Porto Rico episode of the fifty-sixth to the first Philippine bill of the fifty-seventh congress, which was passed by the house last December and sent to the senate—a Christmas gift for the Philippines. As to that the Inter Ocean inquires: "How did this triumvirate plan to treat the Philippines? And the reply is: 'The triumvirate, the men who were in charge of the Spanish territory. It aimed to erect a higher tariff barrier against the Philippines than when they were alien soil. But again the people revolted, and through the senate obtained a 25 per cent. tariff concession.'"

There is not a democratic paper in the United States that could have put this in stronger shape. And here is more plain talk from the same source: "The 'soft words,' runs the homely saying, 'latter day parsons.' The people refused to be deceived by the men who sought to make Porto Rico a Spanish territory. They never can be satisfied with more promises about what is to be done some time or other in the Philippines. "What the people demand in our new possessions is not fair phrases, but deeds. Mr. Grosvenor will do well to bear this fact in mind, and when he returns to Washington to square his acts with his speech. "It is really refreshing to find so much independence in a paper that has long been regarded as one of the most truly loyal organs of the republican party. Besides the exhibition it makes of serious family discord, it has more valuable a showing of trend toward independence in journalism."

POLITICAL DRIFT.

Mr. Hanna has not taken occasion to put any ditto marks under his declaration that there were no trusts in this country.—Washington Star (rep.).

Whatever may be said of the best sugar republicans' treachery to their party, it was no more than the demonstration forces' treachery to the cause of reciprocity.—Louisville Courier-Journal (dem.).

—Ordering a whole province to be made a howling wilderness and the killing of all over ten years of age may be the modern system of warfare, but it is more in keeping with the middle ages. It must be remembered that the homes, the wives and the little ones of the province are to be made a howling wilderness as ours are to us, and his devotion to the stars and stripes is not likely to be enhanced by such strenuous achievements.

THE VATICAN'S REPLY.

Apostolic Delegate to Be Sent to the Philippine.

The Pontiff is Intensely Displeased at the Way in Which the Commission of Cardinals Has Conducted Negotiations.

Rome, July 19.—The following note from the Vatican was presented to Gov. Taft:

"I hasten to acknowledge the receipt of the letter by which you kindly communicated to me the cablegram from Secretary Root answering my July 9, which explained the content of the project of the Vatican for the regulation of religious affairs in the Philippines. While thanking you for this important communication I am happy to assure you that the Holy See has learned with the liveliest satisfaction the high consideration which Mr. Root, in the name of the government of the United States, holds the fitness of the measure which you have independently of the solution of any economic question designed taking to ameliorate the religious situation of the Philippine Islands and to cooperate in the pacification of the people under American sovereignty. The measures are indicated in my memorandum of June 21 and my letter of July 9. These declarations of Mr. Root do honor to the deep political wisdom of the government of the United States which knows how to appreciate the happy influence of the Holy See for the religious and civil education of the people, especially Catholics."

"With equal satisfaction the pontiff has taken into account the assurances of Secretary Root that the American authorities in the Philippines and at Washington will put forth all possible efforts to maintain a good understanding and friendly relations with the authorities of the Catholic Church. On his part, the pontiff will not fail to give the assistance which can be sent to the Philippines, the most precise instructions according to my former note."

The main lines for future negotiations, indicated in the notes, having been accepted by Secretary Root, the representative of the Vatican in the Philippines will enter into relations with the authorities in the Philippines on the four points indicated by Mr. Root.

"The Holy See does not doubt that mutual confidence, combined with the action of its representatives and that of the American government, will easily produce a happy solution of the pending questions, inaugurating for that noble country a new era of peace and progress."

"It is my agreeable duty in sending this letter to the very great courtesy and high capacity of which you have filled the delicate mission which the government of the United States has confided to you. Willingly I admit that the favorable result of the negotiations be attributed in very large part to your high personal qualities."

"While flattering myself that this first success will be a guarantee of the happy issues of ulterior negotiations in Manila."

"I have the honor to be, etc. Rampon."

Gov. Taft was informed Friday night that the pope had fixed July 21 for his audience. Gov. Taft will start Saturday for Valombrosa, near Florence, where he will stay with his family until Monday, when he will return for his residence in Rome.

Rome, July 19.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says the pontiff has been informed of the fact in which the commission of cardinals has conducted the negotiations with Judge Taft in the matter of the Philippine Islands.

"I learn from an authoritative source," says the correspondent, "that besides the usual procedure of the commission of cardinals, the pope has summarily dissolved it, expressing his view that the American demands were reasonable, and implying his readiness to treat with Judge Taft personally."

SWEEP BY A TORNADO.

Much Property Was Destroyed Near Danvers, N. Y.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., July 19.—A tornado swept over Monticello, a small village near Danvers, N. Y., this morning, destroying a starch factory, a carding mill, the Chateaufort Ore and Iron Co.'s extensive iron property.

The same storm struck a steam launch in the Upper Chateaufort lake belonging to Seth Thomas, the well-known clock maker, and destroyed his fine camp and boat house on the lake. The storm also destroyed the home of the late owner of the Seth Thomas clock works, owned by Frank Sawyer, of Chicago, located near the Seth Thomas clock works on Upper Chateaufort lake, severely injuring one man.

TERRIBLE FLOODS.

The Loss in Eastern Iowa Will Foot Up About $4,000,000.

Keokuk, Ia., July 19.—Heavy rains in Central Iowa are sending a great down upon prospective Missouri farmers which will ruin many of them and cause losses aggregating at the conservative estimate of $2,000,000. There seems to be no hope for a contrary between the Mississippi river and the Missouri bluffs between Keokuk and Hannibal, 300 square miles, in which much corn is laid by, together with several thousands of acres of wheat in the shock.

A rise of one and a half feet in a short time at Ottumwa and a further rise throughout its length below the capital city was prevented from running out freely by a rise of a foot and a half at Davenport, increasing and coming down rapidly since.

The observer of the weather bureau at Keokuk, in charge of this district, sent telegraphic warning to all plants to be prepared for a great flood. Egyptian levee, which stood the flood just receding after strenuous efforts to hold it, including the destruction of farm houses to secure bulwarks for strengthening the dike, is only slightly above the water now and the coming down in the Des Moines will not be certain. This lets the water into hundreds of square miles, including the town of Alexandria, Mo.

The corn crop is all made and wheat is in the shock, attaining a total loss of the year's work. Crops were never finer and the yield promise is immense. Grain men say the above estimate of value is too low and put the figures of the loss from the overflow from $4,000,000 between Keokuk and Hannibal.

Heavy rains were reported in South Iowa Friday and Saturday, and indicates still higher water. Lowland farmers, river men and the weather bureau observer all predict the greatest damage ever known from flood on the upper river.

IMMIGRATION.

The Number Arriving in the United States in 1902 By Countries.

Washington, July 19.—A statement has been prepared at the immigration bureau showing the number of immigrants who arrived in the United States by countries during the fiscal year, 1902, as compared with 1901. The total arrivals for the last fiscal year were 647,451, as compared with 605,000 other annual passengers, making a total of 730,788. This is an increase of 106,825 immigrants over 1901. The principal increase during the last year as compared with 1901 were as follows:

Austria-Hungary, 58,599; Italy, including Sicily and Sardinia, 42,379; Russian empire and Finland, 40,000; Japan, 5,000; Germany, 4,500; France, 4,000; Norway, 3,500; Denmark, 2,000.

The principal decreases are: Ireland, 14,435; China, 4,901; Turkey in Europe, 200.

Following are the names of the countries from which the largest number of immigrants came during the last fiscal year: Italy, including Sicily and Sardinia, 174,375; Austria-Hungary, 171,985; Russia, 107,484; Sweden, 20,894; Ireland, 29,137; German empire, 28,304; Norway, 17,484; Japan, 14,400; England, 15,575.

A MISSISSIPPI FLOOD.

The Loss Will Aggregate About Six Million Dollars.

Thousands of Shocks of Wheat Washed to the Gulf.—In One Place the River Is From Five to Ten Miles in Width.

Keokuk, Ia., July 21.—Exploration of the flooded districts of the Mississippi river from Keokuk south shows conditions beyond the appreciation of realization of any but people of long experience with the factor of waters in its most destructive mood.

The situation is growing worse hourly and a great conflagration in a great city would not be more rapidly destructive of values than the antithesis a hundred miles below Keokuk.

It is a very likely not the slightest chance of stopping this down-time most costly flood in the history of the great river above St. Louis.

Cardinal estimates are all over the worst damaged area Sunday in the steamer Silver Crescent and found everywhere the greatest crops ever known under water-deep enough to float a steamboat. People at the river cities give an immense mass of details all over the river.

Many millions of dollars, hundreds of farmers rich ten days ago penniless and homeless, hundreds watching and praying that the great levees may hold, which are now their bulwark against additional millions of loss and many cases of poverty.

Gregory estimates the territory covered and generalization of the statements of best informed people in the Mississippi valley that the loss will be six million dollars, with every prospect of two or three millions additional by the rise above not yet reached.

Most of this loss is on the Missouri side of the river between Keokuk and Hannibal.

During the water-lapped lumber yards of Keokuk the mouths of the Des Moines river seem to be nearly dry.

For two months and an island delta covered with farms which are now under raging torrents.

Immersed except the white church in which service was held Sunday, the praying congregation from the country and the city were by the railroad track which is still above the flood in a waste of water miles wide.

Immense fields are seen in a great lake with the shore line, visible only with a glass, where the high bluffs bound the bottoms. Islands drifting in the middle of the present river are exposed except for the tops of trees or sprigs of high shore willows slight above the water level.

Occasionally a house on piles or stilts is seen, but generally only roofs protrude to mark the center of the island.

On the edge of the flood river corn gradually rises on a slope, tassels, tops, ears, stalks appear in the middle of the water.

In a few of the half submerged fields is shocked wheat in the background, the remnants of many more washed to the Gulf of Mexico.

At the mouth of the river the tracks of the St. Louis, Keokuk & Northwestern railroad, normally the tracks of a few inches above the water, and under it in some stretches. Shore lights for pilots are standing in the midst of a waste of water.

Where the steamboats can run over them. The river is five to ten miles wide and 70 miles long, and another great lake to the geographic north.

This territory was practically covered with water a fortnight ago estimated to make 75 to 100 bushels to the acre.

Previous estimates of the loss have been greatly increased by the prospective yield being found much greater than ever before, experts to the effect that the loss was good for 100 bushels to the acre before the flood. The loss is total.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

One Man Killed, One Fatally Hurt and Another Injured at Knoxville.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 21.—As the result of a queer accident in the local yards of the Atlanta, Knoxville & Northern railroad Sunday, David Monday was instantly killed, his brother, Elsie Monday, was fatally hurt, and James Palmer and other employees were badly shaken up. The men were cleaning an engine on a side track when the engine, approaching on the next track, jumped the rails and ploughed its way into the group of men.

Two Excursionists Drowned.

Tulchester, Md., July 21.—James B. Post, aged 20, and Theodore C. Parker, aged 21, of Baltimore, who came here Sunday on an excursion, were drowned in the Potomac river.

They were with four companions, were rowing in the bay. A wind squall overturned the boat. The other passengers were rescued, but one of them, it is said, was killed.

Old-Time Minstrel Expired.

Boston, July 21.—James J. Kelly, an old-time minstrel who during his professional career appeared in nearly every part of the world, died at his home this city Sunday. He was 69 years old.

LOT AT NEBRASKA CITY.

The Law and Order League Prevented a Baseball Game.

Lincoln, Neb., July 21.—A telephone message from Nebraska City says there was a riot at the baseball grounds there Sunday afternoon. The law and order league attempted to prevent the game. The league, sworn out by members of the warrant, was placed in the hands of Sheriff Brower for the arrest of the two teams. When he arrived on the grounds an angry crowd surrounded and hustled him violently. His revolver was taken away from him. He succeeded in arresting four players and took them to a justice's office, where they were placed under bonds.

A number of city pastors were at the justice's office, and when they left, friends of the players threatened and reviled them. A rock was thrown at Rev. C. M. Shepperd, of the Methodist church, striking a companion and knocking him down. Mr. Shepperd was chased to his home. Later, alleging that his life had been threatened and the church property was in jeopardy, Mr. Shepperd applied to the mayor for a police guard for himself and the church property and it was provided.

Prismus's outbreak is the outcome of a long and bitter fight between the Law and Order league and friends of Sunday ball. Saturday the question was put to a vote of citizens and there was practically a unanimous vote for Sunday ball.

JOHN W. MACKAY DEAD.

Passed Away at His Residence on Carlton House Terrace, London.

London, July 21.—John W. Mackay, of San Francisco, who had been suffering from heart prostration since the death of his wife, died at his residence on Carlton House Terrace at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

Mr. Mackay's condition, as stated Saturday, was the lower of the two. He had a bad night, and Sunday morning a consultation was held by three physicians.

STEAMER COLLISION TWO.

At Least Fifty Passengers Were Drowned and Others Injured.

The Band Was Playing and Many Couples Were Dancing on the Deck When the Crash of the Collision Came.

Hamburg, July 22.—The steamship Primus of Hamburg, with 185 passengers on board, was cut in two and sunk by the tug Hansa on the river Elbe at 12:30 o'clock Monday morning. So far as is ascertainable, about 50 persons were drowned.

The Primus was an excursion steamer from Buxtehude, province of Hanover. She was on her way to a cruise between Blankenese and Nienstedten. Among the passengers were the members of the Elbbeck Male Choral society. At the time of the accident the Primus was cruising the river channel near Blankenese, from the southern into the northern fairway. Across the crash of the collision the Hansa, the movement was made precipitately. The Primus struck the tug's engine room and the Hansa endeavored to push her ashore, but the tug rounded and the ships parted. The Primus then sank. In the interval, when the crash of the collision, the Primus were able to reach the Hansa by means of ropes and ladders. Seventy men were picked up by the tug. The rest of the passengers were rescued by the tug.

The horrible panic that occurred on the Primus when the Hansa struck her rendered the efforts to save the passengers almost useless. Fortunately the steamer Dolphin came up immediately and succeeded in saving 69 of those on board the sinking steamer, while other boats assisted in the work of rescue.

Some of the survivors furnish strange tales of the lower end of the disaster. According to their story, the band was playing and many couples were dancing on the deck when the crash of the collision came like a thunderbolt. The vessel gave a great list, her deck lurching and the passengers were thrown for the passengers to keep their feet. Those below scrambled up the companionways, but most of the persons on board were drowned. Many fought for their own safety regardless of others.

In the midst of the confusion the band continued, adding to the horrors of the scene, and many persons are said to have been injured by flying splinters of metal. More of the survivors were rescued by the tug.

It is asserted that divers have already recovered the bodies of many of the men who were drowned. It is impossible to verify the death list. An attempt will immediately be made to float the vessel, and when all the bodies have been recovered the bodies will be buried.

Estimates of the number of dead vary from 50 to 100.

A large number of the survivors were injured, though not seriously.
